Theater Arts Building

Room 156 (TA 156), Rockville Campus or via Zoom

10 - 11:30 a.m.

Join us for a dialogue and educational conversation with Open Circle Theatre. Open Circle Theatre is DC's first professional theatre that promotes careers in the arts for people with disabilities. They create from the principle that disability can enhance the artistic experience, expand aesthetic innovation, and influence a community to become accessible for all. Formed in 2003 by a group of people with and without disabilities, they value building a diverse community and celebrating the uniqueness of each person through showcasing their unique talents and through education.
